God's Champion: The Life of Job By Robert W. Butler

Job, God's champion, offers experiential insight into the nature and workings of God. Job is not the main character of the book of Job; rather, it is God. The opening scene is in heaven, and God's relationship with humanity is challenged. Job's life becomes the arena of contention in this attack on God. As a result, Job loses family, wealth, and health. Job and his friends argue over God's actions and men's experiences in the world. God clarifies that Job spoke what was right about Him. Here are a few important lessons from Job's life: God wants a relationship with you. We need a mediator for our spiritual condition. God operates for His own glory. Suffering may be a part of God's plan. Don't let the suffering temper your enthusiasm for the understanding offered by God's champion. Job's life illustrates a substantive spiritual relationship with the God of heaven. The more we know Him, the more we will value the relationship. Our relationship with Him facilitates our being made in His image. Learn to be a champion!

Editorial Review

About the Author

The author has been involved with Christian ministry since he was in high school. His ministry experiences in addition to senior pastor include summer camp, youth ministry, worship leadership, Christian schools, and home-school leadership. He currently is the pastor of Grace Church in Menifee, California. While no one may have experienced the extremes of Job, everyone has dealt with financial, family, medical, and relational difficulties. The congregation found the personal relevance of this book extraordinary in keeping the focus on the God of creation when preached through in 2005. The author has been married for thirty-two years. He has three children and four grandchildren. The more of life he experiences, the more relevance he finds in Job.
